GOULD 9-NORWAY 8

The Gould baseball team opened its season successfully by defeating Norway in a ten-inning league game. Both teams made numerous errors and played rather loosely in the field due no doubt to their lack of outdoor practice.

Gould got away to a fine start by scoring three times in the second when Norway outfielders dropped two flies right in their hands. This following a couple of passes and a wild pitch gave the locals a three-run lead. Norway picked up one run in the third and three more in the fifth through heavy hitting.

They then increased their advantage, pulling ahead 8-4 in the last half of the eighth inning. It was "do or die" for Gould when they came in for their bats in the ninth.

"Do" it was. Four hits by Wentzell, Tucker, Young, and Holt with walks to C. Crockett and Clough produced the four runs needed to tie up the ball game. Brooks, who was called to Holt's relief in the eighth, retired Norway in the ninth without a run and Gould came to bat in the tenth anxious to score and break up the long, drawn-out affair. Brown, first up, fanned. Wentzell reached first when the first baseman dropped an easy throw. C. Crockett also got a life on the third baseman's error and here Tucker singled to advance both men. Norway kept their infield back thinking there were two out and Brooks brought in the winning run on his grounder to the second baseman. Norway's lead-off man in the tenth got a hit but didn't advance as Brooks got the first two men on flies to the outfield and Wentzell came through to stop a torrid smash and throw out the final batter.

The new men on the Academy team, Smith, Young, and Brooks, played well and once the pitching improves the locals can look forward to a successful season.

PARSONS-VAIL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Vail in Skillington was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, when their daughter, Eleanor Frances, became the bride of Harry E. Parsons, son of Mrs. Ula Parsons. Rev. M. A. Gordon performed the ceremony, using the double ring service. Only the immediate families of the couple were present.

The bride wore a gown of light blue, and carried a hand corsage of roses, sweet peas and carnations.

Miss Mildred Vail of Cambridge, Mass., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gowned in dark blue and wore a corsage of flowers like those of the bride. George Parsons, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The home was decorated in green and white, and the bridal group stood in front of a bank of evergreen with green and white crepe paper forming an archway, from which was suspended a white wedding bell. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served. A beautiful wedding cake, made by the bride's parents, was cut by the bride.

Mrs. Parsons attended the common schools of Bethel and graduated from Gould Academy in 1937.

Mr. Parsons attended the public schools of Portland and Bethel and graduated from Gould Academy in 1927. He is employed by the New England Tel. & Tel. Company and is stationed at Farmington, where the couple are now residing.

LEGION'S AMATEUR NIGHT PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

There was a large attendance at the amateur hour: "Brooks' Harmony Boys," Pearl Daye, Patsy O'Brien, Romeo Baker and Angelo Onofrio, McMillin Sisters, Romeo Dumont, Sidney Howe, Master Roy Lurvey, Virginia Davis and Edna Young, Montana Cowgirls, Carl and Carolyn Wight.

The Girl Scouts' demonstration of "A Day in Camp" was a very interesting act. Charles Freeman, Charles Smith, Mrs. P. J. Connor and Miss Bertha Clement added much to the entertainment with their performances. Ruel Chapman and Harold Lurvey, with their skit, "And That's That," kept the audience in an uproar. Shaw's orchestra furnished music between the acts.

The following contestants entered in the amateur hour: "Brooks' Harmony Boys," Pearl Daye, Patsy O'Brien, Romeo Baker and Angelo Onofrio, McMillin Sisters, Romeo Dumont, Sidney Howe, Master Roy Lurvey, Virginia Davis and Edna Young, Montana Cowgirls, Carl and Carolyn Wight.

At the close of the show the contestants fled onto the stage, and they were judged by the applause given them by the audience. The judges were Mrs. G. L. Thurston, Robert Gleason and H. D. Thurston.

Little Pearl Daye, the youngest contestant, was the winner of the first prize of $10.00. She sang "Little Old Lady," and was very charming in her little old-fashioned costume. Romeo Dumont, a clog dancer from Upton, received the second prize of $5.00 and the third prize of $3.00 was awarded the Montana Cowgirls, Hilda and Dorothy Bennett of Albany. Pen and pencil sets were awarded Virginia Davis and Edna Young, a dance team, and to Carolyn and Carl Wight, who sang "The Old Apple Tree."

People and Spots in the Late News

BASEBALL'S NO. 1 FAN... Come war, depression, calamity or turmoil, President Roosevelt won't have to use knothole to see baseball games in 1939. Chief executive, (left) is shown receiving gold-embossed season pass from Ford Frick, National League president (center) and Clark Griffith, owner of Washington Senators. Pocketbook contains pass for Mrs. Roosevelt.

"LONE EAGLE" RETURNS... Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Air Corps Reserve, shown with police escort on his return to his native land for second visit since self-imposed exile abroad, was unexpectedly called to active duty by War Department to aid in survey of U. S. aviation research facilities. He took up new duties immediately.

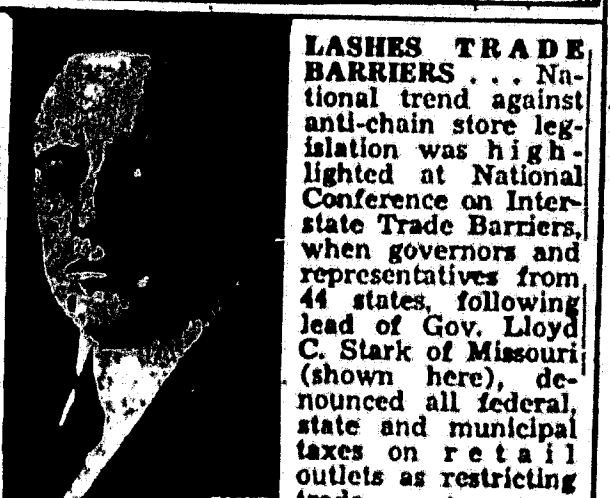

BRIM MAKES ITS BOW... Varieties of swag brimmed felt hat always so popular with men are also popular with women because brims are definitely flattering. New tall, slim crown, the large buckle for trimming and fuzzy felt finish give this hat its ultra-modern touch.

DEFENDERS OF ENGLAND... War-conscious England is typified here by two members of Women's Ambulance Corps in London shown canvassing for recruits during national defense display in Hyde Park in which Territorial, Auxiliary Air Force and members of Air Raid Precaution Services participated.

GIANT "JEWEL BOX"... Sparkling example of growing use of glass for building is St. Louis new Floral Conservatory, whose 16,000 square feet of hallstone-proof, double strength polished plate glass earn it the title of "The Jewel Box." Building is 186 feet long, 55 feet wide, 55 feet high.

LASHES TRADE BARRIERS... National trend against anti-chain store legislation was highlighted at National Conference on Interstate Trade Barriers, when governors and representatives from 44 states, following lead of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri (shown here), denounced all federal, state and municipal taxes on retail outlets as restricting trade.

ELECTRIC COOKING

costs 1/2 as much as you think!*

"So fast, so clean and costs so little that I couldn't do without modern, flameless cooking!" That's what women say about electric cooking. Come in today and find out how economically you, too, can modernize your kitchen.

We will show you actual bills PROving the low cost of electric cooking right here in your own community.

*Although millions know the LOW COST of electric cooking, a national survey shows that 60% of those who DON'T KNOW average TWICE the ACTUAL average cost.

LOW COST. Down comes the cost of cooking when you cook on a modern Electric Range!

FAST. Just flip the switch... a new Electric Range gives you COOKING heat instantly!

CLEAN. Electric heat is flameless heat. It cannot blacken pots, pans, walls or ceilings!

INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT

On the evening of April 28, Mrs. Emma Van Den Kerckhoven announced the engagement of her daughter, Lucia, to Walter Tican, son of Mamaronock, N. Y., at a desert bridge given at the Van Den Kerckhoven home on Elm Street, Bethel.

The dainty color scheme of pink, and white and silver was made charmingly consistent in the dining and living rooms by the use of pink roses, crystal candlesticks and old-fashioned rose-patterned Haviland china.

Covers were laid for 20 guests at small tables and a dessert of assorted cake, bonbons, coffee and ices was served. The especial pink candles were made for the occasion and the ice cream was in the shape of pink hearts enclosing white cupid. The individual nut baskets were pink with wedding bell decorations.

The tables for bridge were with dual envelopes, decorated with pink hearts and bearing the given names of the betrothed couple. These favors were made by Miss Margaret Hanscom, who also wrapped the bridge prizes in the announcement colors.

The scores for the evening indicated the awards as follows: first prize, perfume, won by Mrs. G. L. Thurston; second prize, vanity compact, won by Mrs. Eugene Van Den Kerckhoven; the travelling prize, crystal ice cube container, with long, Mrs. Harry Wilson. To Miss Rebecca Carter went the consolation prize, a glass flower container filled with candy.

Those present besides the hostess and guest of honor were Miss Margaret Hall, Mrs. Eugene Leonard, Miss Margaret Hanscom, Mrs. Myron Bryant, Mrs. Eugene Van Den Kerckhoven, Mrs. Elmer Bennett, Mrs. Carroll Bailey, Mrs. Dorothy Moore, Mrs. Louis Van Den Kerckhoven, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. G. L. Thurston, Mrs. Harold Lurvey, Miss Rebecca Carter, Mrs. Ethel Hastings, Mrs. Viola Lord, Miss Dorothy Hanscom, Miss Barbara Moore, and Mrs. Dorothy Tucker.

Each guest was given a pink rose at the close of the evening.

The prospective bride is a popular local girl, who has been employed in the office of Bethel Inn and with the Van Tel. & Tel. Co. She is a graduate of Gould Academy and attended Southern Junior College at Petersburg, Virginia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tican of Harrison and received his education in Worcester and Peabody, Mass.

The wedding will be an event of the early summer.

Dale Clouka, Carl Tucker, Ruth Bull, Clean Up, Beatrice Canwell, David Roberts, George Stearns, Elizabeth Smith, Everett Gavel, Mary Buck, Posters, Nathaniel Bruce Scarborough, Edna Young, Bartholomae.

"THEY TELL ME"

Just because Mr. Hitler and B. Mussolini are raising thunder over across you would think it was something most unusual. Now I ain't standing up for either or both of them so don't worry about a fascist in your midst. But get down your old history book, you may remember that they had an Alexander the Great, and a Hannibal and some Caesars. And since then the Spaniards kicked out the moors (like the Jews are taking it again now) and then spread out pretty thin all over the globe. Then the English got a lot of territory in one way or another and made themselves an empire which seems to hold together pretty good except where the U. S. broke loose. And we were just as bad when we grabbed land right and left from the Indians when they rather keep it for themselves. It seems that none of these people were especially scrupulous about how they got results. And I don't believe war is any worse than it ever was—only as modern ingenuity helps it to be. We can cuss smugly about the Japs and Huns and the way the Italians showed off down in Africa, but there isn't anything much worse to date than the Civil War prisons in this good old U. S. A. or the tortures of the Middle Ages. There has never been any reason for us to meddle with Europe's wars, and besides we can't afford it.

UNCLE HIRAM

Upton

Rev. John G. Manter, Rev. John Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Bertha Judkins are attending the annual Church convention at Dover Foxcroft.

John Angevine has bought Richard Williamson's car.

Ralph Brown has a new truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen of Errol, N. H. were guests of his brother A. E. Allen Tuesday.

The Girl's 4-H Club presented "Snow Bound" at the Grange Hall.

On April 29 Mrs. Emma Van Den Kerckhoven entertained Miss Maxine Clough, Miss Julia Brown and Miss Beatrice Brown at supper. Cards and a social evening were enjoyed. Apropos of Miss Lucia Ven Den Kerckhoven's betrothal announcement, felicitations were given and favors awarded the guests.

Why Prefer Particular Colors

Each of us has a preference for some particular color, but not all of us know why. A slight knowledge of the meaning of color will help us analyze our likes and dislikes. It is wise to consider the characteristic properties of individual colors before we proceed to change the color combinations in our homes. Red, for instance, symbolizes vitality, energy, power. It is highly stimulating. Blue signifies tranquility. Psychologically, its influence is quieting. Yellow symbolizes light, cheerfulness. Green soothes, yet exhilarates.

The Different Blood Types

There are four main blood types. In classifying the types of blood two test serums are used. If the blood does not clot with either serum the blood is type I; if it clots with both it is type IV; if it clots with one but not with the other it is type II or type III, depending on which one is present when the clotting takes place. The various types of blood do not indicate anything about health. All are normal.

Largest Underground Canal

The world's largest underground canal flows from the port of Marseilles in France to the Port de Bone, and is 4½ miles long, and has a width of 72 feet.

Light From Sun Reaching Earth

It is estimated that it requires 499 seconds for light from the sun to reach the earth.

40 YEARS AGO in NEWS

May 3, 1899

For several days the Androscoggin has been so high as to cover the road in the vicinity of Alder River, and also Mill Brook bridge on the Steam Mill road. At the latter place it has become necessary to close the road to travel.

The past week has been a busy one for the river drivers on the Androscoggin, and logs are running in abundance. Booms have been built to prevent their running back onto the intervals, and it is hoped that no difficulty may be had along this line.

Negotiations are in progress and now well under way for obtaining additional capital in the Bethel Chair Company. The stock is being offered for sale, and already some $5,000 has been taken. Some has been sold to outside parties.
The business men of Bethel are quite generally buying the stock.
Business still continues good at the factory and with more capital will be extended. No move has been made toward purchasing the plant under the recent vote of the town.

A very exciting game of ball was played on the Common, Fast Day, between the two Academy nines, resulting in a victory for the smaller boys, of 41 to 37.

A. M. Carter and Harry Carter are at home from the Magalloway valley where they have been for the past six weeks making survey upon lands of the Berlin Mills Company, which owns some 120,000 acres in that section. The company is contemplating the erection of large storage dams upon the river to facilitate the driving of timber, and one of the objects of the survey was to assist in determining the location of these dams. A complete topographical survey was made.

Newry—M. L. Thurston's crew drove 1,005,000 of logs out of Bear River last week. He now has a large amount of timber to drive from Swift River. The schools of Newry commenced Monday with the following teachers: Miss Lizzie Grover and Miss Maud Merrow of West Bethel, and Miss Helen Russell of Bethel.

Magalloway—M. D. Sturtevant has driven six millions of lumber out of Swift Diamond for the I. P.
Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lisherness of Rangeley were in town Monday.

Mrs. W. R. Spinney of Boston and Miss Mildred Vall of Cambridge, Mass., were in town for the weekend. T. F. Vall returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Blabie and Mr. and Mrs. F. I. French were in town Monday to attend the funeral services of Arthur M. French.

THE ROAD HOG

Mrs. Ula Parsons of Chestnut Hill, Mass., and Mrs. Forrest Killgore of Bridgton were in town
Saturday to attend the Parsons-Vall wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. F. I. French, Mrs.
Robert F. Bean and Miss Phyllis Williamson attended the funeral services of Lewis Akers in Andover Monday.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

TRICK PICTURES

"Castle in the clouds"—an easy trick shot you can make at home. For how to do it, see below.

TRICK pictures made with the aid of glass or mirrors are easy—and these devices permit many unusual effects.

Place an object on a table with glass top—shoot from underneath the table—and the object seems to be floating in air, for the glass, of course, will be invisible.

That is how the picture of the "castle in the clouds," shown above, was taken. A big piece of glass served as support—the castle is a toy one—the clouds are pieces of dusty cotton. And a portrait attachment was used on the camera to permit shooting "close-up." Diagram 1 shows how things were arranged.

You can use this same technique in shooting a picture of a pet—in picturing a ship model—showing a doll making a high dive—and in many other clever, striking snapshots. Just have the glass well cleaned, don't allow it to pick up reflections from your photo lights, —and your pictures will truly puzzle

anyone who views them.

Mirrors are extremely useful in making trick snaps. For an amusing shot, get a plain unmounted mirror, and place it level just under the camera lens as shown in Diagram 2.
Take a picture of your house with this arrangement—and if the mirror is correctly adjusted as shown, your picture will show a lake in your front yard! The mirror cuts off the lower half of the scene, and substitutes an upside-down reflection, just as would appear in a smooth sheet of water!

Try these simple, amusing camera stunts. You can make trick pictures as well as anybody!

John van Guilder

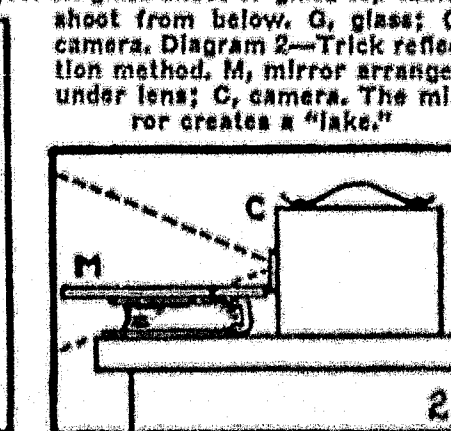

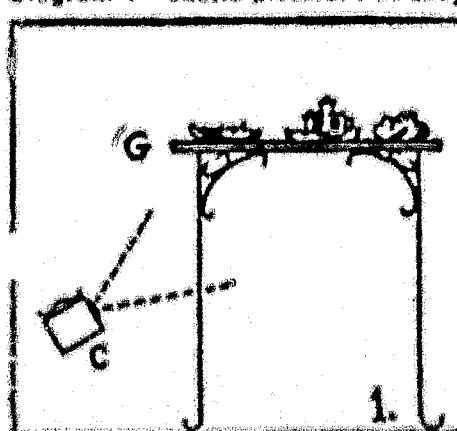

Diagram 1—Castle picture. Put subject on glass sheet or glass top table, shoot from below. G, glass; C, camera. Diagram 2—Trick reflection method. M, mirror arranged under lens; C, camera. The mirror creates a "lake."

INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT

On the evening of April 28, Mrs. Emma Van Den Kerckhoven announced the engagement of her daughter, Lucia, to Walter Ticeander of Mamaroneck, N. Y., at a desert bridge given at the Van Den Kerckhoven home on Elm Street, Bethel.

The dainty color scheme of pink, white and silver was made charmingly consistent in the dining and living rooms by the use of pink roses, crystal candlesticks and old-fashioned rose-patterned Haviland china.

Covers were laid for 20 guests at small tables and a dessert of assorted cake, bonbons, coffee and ices was served. The special pink candles were made for the occasion and the ice cream was in the shape of pink hearts enclosing white cupid. The individual nut baskets were pink with wedding bell decorations.

The tallies for bridge were with in dual envelopes, decorated with pink hearts and bearing the given names of the betrothed couple. These favors were made by Miss Margaret Hanscom, who also wrapped the bridge prizes in the announcement colors.

The scores for the evening indicated the awards as follows: first prize, perfume, won by Mrs. G. L. Thurston; second prize, vanity compact, won by Mrs. Eugene Van Den Kerckhoven; the travelling prize, crystal ice cube container with tongs, Mrs. Harry Wilson. To Miss Rebecca Carter went the consolation prize, a glass flower container filled with candy.

Those present besides the hostess and guest of honor were Miss Marguerite Hall, Mrs. Eugenia Leonard, Miss Margaret Hanscom, Mrs. Myron Bryant, Mrs. Eugene Van Den Kerckhoven, Mrs. Elmer Bennett, Mrs. Carroll Bailey, Mrs. Dorothy Moore, Mrs. Louis Van Den Kerckhoven, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. G. L. Thurston, Mrs. Harold Larvey, Miss Rebecca Carter, Mrs. Ethel Hastings, Mrs. Viola Lord, Miss Dorothy Hanscom, Miss Barbara Moore, and Mrs. Dorothy Tucker.

Each guest was given a pink rose at the close of the evening.

The prospective bride is a popular local girl, who has been employed in the office of Bethel Inn and with the Van Tel. & Tel. Co. She is a graduate of Gould Academy and attended Southern Junior College at Petersburg, Virginia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ticeander of Harrison and received his education in Worcester and Penobscot, Mass.

The wedding will be an event of the early summer.

"THEY TELL ME"

Just because Mr. Hitler and B. Mussolini are raising thunder over across you would think it was something most unusual. Now I ain't standing up for either or both of them so don't worry about a fascist in your midst. But get down your old history book, you may remember that they had an Alexander the Great, and a Hannibal and some Caesars. And since then the Spaniards kicked out the moors (like the Jews are taking it again now) and then spread out pretty thin all over the globe. Then the English got a lot of territory in one way or another and made themselves an empire which seems to hold together pretty good except where the U. S. broke loose. And we were just as bad when we grabbed land right and left from the Indians when they rather keep it for themselves. It seems that none of these people were especially scrupulous about how they got results. And I don't believe war is any worse than it ever was—only as modern ingenuity helps it to be. We can cuss smugly about the Japs and Huns and the way the Italians showed off down in Africa, but there isn't anything much worse to date than the Civil War prisons in this good old U. S. A. or the tortures of the Middle Ages. There has never been any reason for us to meddle with Europe's wars, and besides we can't afford it.

Why Prefer Particular Colors

Each of us has a preference for some particular color, but not all of us know why. A slight knowledge of the meaning of color will help us analyze our likes and dislikes. It is wise to consider the characteristic properties of individual colors before we proceed to change the color combinations in our homes. Red, for instance, symbolizes vitality, energy, power. It is highly stimulating. Blue signifies tranquility. Psychologically, its influence is quieting. Yellow symbolizes light, cheerfulness. Green soothes, yet exhilarates.

The Different Blood Types

There are four main blood types. In classifying the types of blood two test serums are used. If the blood does not clot with either serum the blood is type I; if it clots with both it is type IV; if it clots with one but not with the other it is type II or type III, depending on which one is present when the clotting takes place. The various types of blood do not indicate anything about health. All are normal.

Largest Underground Canal

The world's largest underground canal flows from the port of Marseilles in France to the Port de Bone, and is 4½ miles long, and has a width of 72 feet.

One Out of Twenty

Next time your club meets, or you have a family reunion, list the names of 20 of those present. Let them be members of your family, relatives, close friends.

Look well upon their happy faces, for at the present rate one out of that 20 will be killed or injured in an automobile accident within the next five years.

It may be you, or your daughter, or your mother, or perhaps your sweetheart.

It may be a minor injury; it may be a crippling, disfiguring casualty; it may be death.

These figures are based on the law of averages, assuming that the annual total of traffic deaths and injuries reported by The Travelers Insurance Company for 1938 will not increase in any of the next five years.

Fortunately, you and your relatives and friends can evade the law of averages. You can beat it by being above the average in your walking and driving habits. If you and your group of 20 will walk and drive safely, the average injury probably will not strike in the next five years; it may not strike in the next 20 years; it may, in fact, never strike.

Find No Meaning for Milo
Milo is a Greek name for which no meaning is discoverable. The Milo of ancient times was a celebrated athlete of Crotona, who, legend says, felled an ox with his fist and ate it in one day. Milo is also the name of a Greek volcanic island (Melos is another form of the name) with a population of 6,000. Among the ruins of the ancient city of Melos was found the Venus de Milo.

THERE was an electric silence in the lovely room, broken only by the crackling fire and the soft ticking of an old banjo clock. The man, standing with his back against the mantel of the big roomy fireplace, searched the face of the girl anxiously as though to read there the answer to his fears. Lindsey Putnam had been "going with" Phyllis Rand ever since school days, and Lin had just confessed to Phyl that he was head over heels in love with the lovely, fiery, exotic Adele Thornton!

"It's not that I like . . . love you any less, Phyl; you'll always be the most perfect pal I ever had . . . it's just that Adele seems to sweep every sane thought from my head. She . . . well, I guess it's true that I am crazy over her! I can't seem to think sensible thoughts any more . . ." Then the girl seemed to stir from her reverie, and, although he was not so sure about her eyes, they seemed hurt. Her mouth smiled gravely, and she rose and went over to him, laying her slim brown little hand on his sleeve as she said softly: "Lin—there's nothing I can say other than that I hope you'll be ever so happy! If a wish could make it so, I'm sure you'll be happy and contented with—the girl of your choice!"

Afterward—when he was striding home, Lin recalled that she had not spoken Adele's name, had, instead, worded it "girl of your choice," and he smiled tenderly at that thought; they were both of them so wonderful, so adorable. Phyl, like a keen, straightforward young boy, hiking and hunting and fishing; playing tennis and golf and riding with him over dangerous mountain trails, and Adele, soft, ultrafeminine, with her girlish gulns and helpless ways, and pretty, appealing manners.

With the door shut on Lin's retreating form Phyl flung herself into the deep cushions of the shabby old divan before the fire, and the hot stinging tears coursed down her tanned face for the first time since she could remember. How could he do it? How could he go around with her all these years, making the flower of love in her heart grow stronger and deeper rooted, only to tear it up casually and go after another girl? Was he quite crazy to think that their friendship could go on after he had given his heart to Adele? Didn't he know that these feminine women had nothing to divert their minds from such things as jealousy? Of course Adele's first action of proprietorship would be to suggest that he see less of dear little Phyllis!

Two weeks later, after Phyl had repeatedly turned down invitations to hike with Lin, or play golf or tennis, or ride over Pitcher mountain with him, on the grounds that that was Adele's privilege now, she opened the door one rainy fall day and found Lin standing on the wind-swept porch, a bunch of sumac in his hands and a comical expression on his face.

"Gosh, Phyl," he murmured as she took his dripping coat and hat, "it seems like home here. I know how crazy you always were over sumac . . . I remembered." Phyl had to force herself to drag forth the usual: "You should be giving them to Adele . . ." to which he replied dryly: "She hates 'em; likes only nice hot-house flowers that aren't messy." Phyl almost grinned as she took the sumac and went to find a vase for it.

"May I come again?" he pleaded after she had given him hot chocolate and sugar cookies and a golden wedge of squash pie.

"You'll find out it's a mistake, Lin, Adele won't like it!" remonstrated Phyl doubtfully.

"Well, there are so many things she doesn't like that one more thing added to the list won't make much difference," he growled; "why . . . don't you like me to come, Phyl?" he added wistfully, and Phyl fought to make her voice sound impersonal and even, as she assured him that it was always a great pleasure to have him come—to talk over old times.

"We did have such wonderful times together, Phyl," he mused, staring at the dancing fire.

"Didn't we?" she said, catching her breath softly.

"Oh Phyl . . . men are such fools . . . couldn't we go on . . . having good times as we used to?" he asked brokenly, his eyes telling her what he couldn't say.

"I . . . oh, Lin . . . I'm afraid . . . it's been so hard . . ."

"Afraid of what?" he asked gently, moving over to stand very close to her.

"Afraid I couldn't be strong enough to give it all up again," she muttered through clenched teeth.

"Need we . . . ever break up again, Phyl? It'll always be you with me, and nobody else . . . oh, my dear . . . let's not be blind again. You've been the girl of my dreams . . . always!" he cried as he swept her into his arms and she burrowed her hot face into the cool dampness of his rough overcoat.

So . . . Lin was happy, as Phyl had wished . . . and he had the girl of his choice after all. And Phyl? There never had been any question of choice with her; there never had been anyone but Lin . . . and there never would be, either!

LADIES' AID PROGRAM ON MAINE POETS

The Ladies' Aid met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. S. Greenleaf with 14 members present. It was voted to hold a parish supper May 8. Mrs. Leroy Hamlin was in charge of the program on Maine Poets. Sketches of the lives of well known Maine poets and excerpts from their works, including Henry W. Longfellow, Charles Wilbert Snow, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Robert P. T. Coffin, Edward Arlington Robinson, Harold T. Puffer were read by Mrs. Hamlin. Mrs. Hamlin also read an article, "Maine Poets," by Gladys Hasty Carroll, and a poem, "Lead On Maine." The following poems, written by poets in this locality were read by members.

"The Answer," written by Mrs. William Rogers Chapman, read by Mrs. Ethel Haselton; "Spruce Gun," Susanne Reynolds, Mrs. Lillian Foster; "March Morning," George F. Ashby, Mrs. M. A. Gordon; "City Twilight," Stanley Foss Bartlett, Mrs. Irving French; "New England March," Mary Alice Thomas, Miss Eugenia Haselton; "Color Harmony," Pearl Ashby Tibbets, Mrs. Perry Lapham; "Winter Evening," Rebecca Williamson Carter, Mrs. Harry Jordan; Come to Me All Ye Children; Longfellow, Mrs. S. S. Greenleaf; "Mother," Folsom, Mrs. H. I. Bean; "This Green Field," Collsworth, Mrs. T. F. Vall.

"For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be; yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be. But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace" (Psalms 37: 10-11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.
